

Level 7 CIM Marketing Leadership Programme module: Consultancy

Senior marketers often gain experience across different organisational types and sizes over the course of their career, giving them a detailed insight into a range of marketing related issues and problems. This experience, within the heart of an organisation, can be developed into a consultancy role either within a large organisation linking in with key clients or as an independent consultant within a marketing specialism.

This module is designed to develop the skills required to build and develop client relationships in either of those scenarios.

Bite-size awards

Each module can be achieved as a distinct, self-contained award which can be built up to attain the full qualification.

The modules can be approached in any order.

Full qualification

To achieve the qualification, a pass in BOTH mandatory modules PLUS one elective module is required.

Module structure

- Critically assess the components of a sustainable and clearly defined consultancy proposition
- Develop the personal brand

Part 2: Scoping the potential service

- Critically assess the contributing factors to a client's business issue
- Evaluate how to facilitate change within the client's organisation, in response to the client's business issue

Part 3: Delivering the client outcome

- Design and implement systems, processes and procedures to embed the agreed solution

Assessment methodology

There will be three assessment sessions per year taking place in: December, March/ April and June.

Assessments for all modules will be an organisational based assignment designed to allow the candidate to address a specific real-life business issue. It is essential the candidate works within/on behalf of an organisation that offers the scope to demonstrate their skills across the content of the individual modules.

A high level of individual tutorial support and peer to peer support will be required to ensure the learners intended approach fulfils the demands of the assessment in terms of content and level of skills utilised.

Some assignments may include an element of self-directed assessment to ensure maximum applicability to the organisation and relevance of the assessment process to the employer and learner. Some degree of presentation preparation will form part of the assessment for the elective modules.

Assignments will be restricted to taking the learner to the implementation stage of recommendations – full implementation of recommended solutions may not be possible within the learner organisations during the assessment period.

Sample assignment briefs will be made available to ASCs on the appointment of the senior examiner team.

Who is it for?

The module is suitable for consultants looking for professional recognition and status whether working in large organisations or as independent business owners.

Entry criteria

To gain entry onto the module a mix of the following is required:

- Level 6 qualification held or Bachelor's or Master's degree
- Career progression evident – past, present and future

Mode of study

Initially the module will be available through a limited number of UK based accredited study centres (ASCs) through a face-to-face or blended learning approach to more easily facilitate the networking opportunities required by the learner and to create a community of learners accessing the module. Expansion into international markets and other ASCs will be considered in 2017.

How long will it take to study?

Research indicated that learners are looking for a programme that can be completed within 18 months. This would allow six months for each module of study.

Notional learning time is estimated at 6-10 hours per week, this includes both supported and independent learning.

Working towards a Masters or MBA?

Each module has an individual credit value of 20 credits, with the programme representing 60 credits which can be used as Accredited Prior Learning (APL) towards other Level 7 qualifications such as a Master's programme. In terms of the time required by the learner this would equate to approximately 200 hours of learning per module.

What are the costs?

There are different costs associated with a CIM qualification. You will need to pay a tuition fee to your study centre, the cost of which can vary. We would recommend contacting several to compare prices and what is included in this fee, as well as their results and the level of support offered.
